

Pollinator Summit 2021 • Schedule

Wednesday February 24, 6–8:00 pm • <https://bpt.me/5035266>

Start Time	Presenter	Topic/Title
6:00	David Roon, Clinical Assistant Professor of Ecology and Conservation Biology, UI	The University of Idaho Bee Hotel Project
6:20	Paul Rhoades, Agriculture Investigator with the Idaho State Department of Agriculture (ISDA)	The Diversity and Life History of Palouse Bees
6:40	Pamela Pavek, Resource Conservationist, NRCS	Habitat for Native Pollinators on the Palouse
7:10	10 minute break
7:20	Joan Falwell	Palouse Prairie Foundation
7:40	Luc Leblanc, Curator and Manager of William F. Barr Entomological Museum, UI	The Bees of Idaho at the Barr Entomological Museum.
7:50	Brad Stokes, Extension Educator, University of Idaho Extension Elmore County	Closing Remarks

Thursday February 25, 2–6:00 pm • <https://bpt.me/5037856>

2:00	Dean Parrella, Dean of the University of Idaho College of Agricultural and Life Sciences	Opening Remarks
2:10	Dwight Curtis, Director of Moscow Parks and Recreation Office	City of Moscow Parks and Recreation Update
2:20	Timothy Hatten, Entomologist	Bee Safe; Gardens & Public Spaces
2:40	Stephen Cook, Professor of Entomology, Entomology, Plant Pathology and Nematology, UI	Examining and Restoring Pollinator Communities in Natural Systems
2:50	Ed Lewis, Department Head/Professor, Co-Director, Center for Health in the Human Ecosystem	Overview of UI Research
3:00	10 minute break
3:10	Joel Sauder, Idaho Dept. of Fish and Game	Informing Pollinator Conservation Through Citizen Science Efforts
3:40	Ron Bitner, Member, Board of Directors of the Pollinator Partnership and Co-Chair of the Bee Friendly Farming Certification program	Bee Friendly Farming
4:00	10 minute break
4:10	Discussion in Zoom Chat Rooms	Breakout Groups of 4–5 people
4:30	Facilitator: Iris Mayes	Breakout Group reports
4:50	David Herbold, Production Manager, Thorn Creek Native Seed Nursery	Notes from a Native Seed Farm and Resources for Sourcing Native Plants for our Pollinators
5:00	10 minute break
5:10	Susan Fluegel, Farmer and Nutritional Biochemist	The Art of Pollination
5:20	Guy Spencer, Runner Bean Ranch	Farming for Pollinator and Insect Health
5:30	Melanie Kirby, Apiculturist – Queen Bee Breeder, WSU MS. Entomology Candidate, Fullbright National Geographic Fellow	It Takes a Community: Place, Purpose, and Power in Landscape and Pollinator Conservation